Life Group Questions

Scripture: 1 Peter 3:18

Thought: To pay back a debt is to give out of obligation. A gift on the other hand is freely given. We may think that people owe us things like respect, honor, and kindness, but do they really? Free will means they can treat us however they want to. When Jesus died, he gave us a gift...he gave us life...not out of obligation, but out of love.

Questions:

1. What gift do you remember being given that meant a lot to you?
2. Do people have an obligation to treat others well? Why or why not?
3. What does the teaching found in Romans 13:8 mean in this conversation?

Be Careful What You Wish For

"Be careful what you wish for," is a phrase often used to help a person think about what they truly desire. We sometimes have this idea of what would make life all better or solve all of our problems and strive to get that. The movies Bedazzled and It's A Wonderful Life both explore this idea by giving a person what he wishes for then allowing him to experience it...in neither case does it work out. Short sayings like this are interesting. They are easy to remember, they contain deeps truths, but they also have a way of being overlooked.

Here in the United States freedom is a deeply held value: freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of choice. The right to be able to choose whatever way we want to go and act. As a result, we see people exercise their freedoms in the political realm. We see people choose to evacuate or not because of hurricane Matthew. Every day people make decisions about education, spending money, or even the tone used when talking to others. These may be good decisions or they may be bad decisions...either way the choice is up to the individual because of his or her freedom.

Interestingly enough God has given us freedom. He gave us free will. The ability to make our own decisions and act on them without interference from God. At the same time our choices carry very real consequences. We can't have one without the other...the choice is ours to make, and we must live with the consequences.

In the New Testament, sinners are commanded over and over to "repent" and "believe" (Matthew 3:2; 4:17; Acts 3:19; 1 John 3:23). Every call to repent is a call to choose. The command to believe is a call to obey the command.

Jesus identified the problem of some unbelievers when He told them, "You refuse to come to me to have life" (John 5:40). Clearly, they could have come if they wanted to; their problem was they chose not to. "A man reaps what he sows" (Galatians 6:7), and those who are outside of salvation are "without excuse" (Romans 1:20-21). -Erik Granberg
