Sermon Scripture: Romans 12:18

Sermon Thought: "World peace!" The answer any noble person should give if they were granted one wish. Or at least, that is what we have often been told. Why world peace? Well, because there is so much turmoil. At most people's core is a desire for peace, but many also get confused on how to attain that. We as followers of God should be people who, as much as it depends on ourselves, should strive for peace.

Sermon Questions:

1. Why is peace so hard to find?
2. What changes could we make that might lead to more peace?
3. There will never really be a world-wide cease fire...considering that, how can we attain peace?

New Prayer Concerns:

- Youth and Family Minister search
- Carol Jantz-at home recovering from a mild heart attack.
- Tom Raloff-recovering from bypass surgery; has MERSA
- Merik Solis-Debbie Martin's grandson, is sick

Crucified on the Cross "Draw all Men to Myself"

Think about the people in your life that have touched you in some way. What was it that drew you to them? Was it someone you admired and held in high esteem? Was it someone who was there when you needed them? Was it someone who set before you a challenge to make you a better person? There are a lot of reasons we are drawn to another person in a way that makes a difference in who we become. God has put an amazing cadre of people in my life through whom he has molded me and shaped me into the spiritual person I am today. Through his wonderful work, we even catch a glimpse from time to time when someone may even be drawn to us.

There is also something divine that draws us to the message of the gospel of Christ. It penetrates to our very soul and causes a stirring deep within us that changes who we are. We can't help but admire Jesus for leaving the glory of heaven to become like us. He is definitely a person that is always there when we need him the most, and he puts his loving arms around us and whispers "come with me." Our Lord and Savior indeed challenges us to rise above the world and take hold of the eternal life he offers. As Paul testifies "I can do all things in him [Christ] who strengthens me" (Phil. 4:13). Praise God that Jesus shows us the way for our spiritual journey and gives us strength to overcome the challenges we face in the world. Jesus gives us this assurance: "Now is the judgment of this world, now shall the ruler of this world be cast out; and I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to myself" (Jn. 12:31-32). As Christians, Christ now lives in us and uses us to fulfill his heart's desire to "draw all men to myself" as we share the good news of the gospel of Christ. He was crucified on the cross to prepare a way for us to be with him in the glorious presence of our heavenly Father. Gordon-
