Sermon Scripture: Leviticus 11:44, 45

Sermon Thought:

Generally speaking, people are aware of their sinfulness. This makes a command like, "Be holy, for I am holy," seem unreal or maybe impossible. Yet, when we look at it as being different unto God, perhaps it makes more sense.

Sermon questions:

1. "Being different," what does culture say about this?
2. What are the correlations between holiness and our actions?
3. How would you explain the idea that God makes us holy couples with Gods telling us to be holy?

New Prayer Concerns:

Loretta Ball – has moved to Brookdale
Carol Jantz – having groin pain; will be having therapy & pain management
Isaac Taylor – broke his arm; prayer of praise that he will not have to have surgery

Control

The song "control" by Tenth Avenue North has been playing in my mind on repeat lately. I, like everyone else, have so many things in my life that are difficult and confusing. We all lose things we want. We all experience heartbreaks and setbacks. We hurt. We fail. We doubt. God uses us anyway. Following and trusting Him takes the pain and worry out of our life and replaces it with contentment. Trust God. I hope you all find comfort in the lyrics of this song like I do.

"Here I am, all my intentions, all my obsessions, I want to lay them all down. In Your hands. Only Your love is vital though I'm not entitled still You call me Your child. God You don't need me but somehow You want me. Oh, how You love me somehow that frees me to take my hands off of my life and the way it should go. God You don't need me but somehow You want me. Oh, how You love me and somehow that frees me to open my hands up and give You control. I give You control.

I've had plans shattered and broken things I have hoped in fall through my hands. You have plans to redeem and restore me you're behind and before me Oh, help me believe.

God You don't need me but somehow You want me. Oh, how You love me and somehow that frees me to take my hands off of my life and the way it should go.

God You don't need me but somehow You want me. Oh, how You love me somehow that frees me to open my hands up and give You control. Oh, You want me.

Somehow You want me.
The King of Heaven wants me.
So this world has lost it's grip on me."

Philippians 4:6-7 "6 Don't worry about anything; instead, pray about everything. Tell God what you need and thank him for all he has done. 7 Then you will experience God's peace, which exceeds anything we can understand. His peace will guard your hearts and minds as you live in Christ Jesus."

Congregational Meeting

It has been a wild and crazy 12 months hasn't it? There has been a pandemic, new leadership at church, broken pipes, new ministries, new auditorium chairs, and much more. With all these things going on we want to have open communication as much as possible. As such, there will be a congregational meeting next Sunday, March 28th immediately after worship services. When services end, we will have a short 5-minute break, then begin with the meeting and will hopefully be done around noon.

Attention LCCC Campers!

If you have any pictures from the 1970s to 2019, please send them to Brent Dittmeyer at brentdittmeyer@gmail.com. Lariat Creek is specifically looking for how the camp has improved over the years, group pictures, and any pictures of the construction.

Thank You

Thank you to everyone who came to give blood Wednesday night! You are all such blessings and you have contributed to saving up to 3 lives!
