Sermon Scripture: Philippians 4:10-13

Sermon Thought:

When a person has done the best they know how and put every effort into achieving the goal, that person can sit back in confidence knowing they gave their all no matter how things turned out. Paul says he has learned to be content no matter the circumstances. This kind of tranquility can truly only come through Jesus Christ.

Sermon questions:

1. What is Paul's secret to being content?
2. In what situations are you least likely to be content?
3. How can you apply Paul's secret to your situations?

Under the stairs? In the back yard? Behind the curtains? Where is it?

In the book of Luke, we find the story of a woman who has ten coins but loses one. She lights a lamp, sweeps her house, and tells all her friends and family when she finds the coin. This story never meant much to me until I had young children who required a special blanket or stuffed animal to fall asleep. I remember a time when Isaac's most favorite stuffed monkey had disappeared, and we had searched the house, basement, garage, and front & back yards completely with no success. Isaac was not quite two at the time and was very sad at the prospect of going to bed without his favorite stuffed animal. After he was asleep, I searched all those areas again. I won't tell you how long I spent searching, but I did finally find the missing monkey under an upside-down Tinker Toys can in the living room. Why would someone spend that much time looking for a silly lost stuffed animal? For love. I knew Isaac's eyes would light up and he would smile that smile that melts a parent's heart when he saw his special stuffed animal. He would hug the monkey tight to his chest and everything would be right in his world again. Luke 15: 8-10 says there is rejoicing in the Heaven when one sinner repents. If we as earthly parents are happy when we can help our children find their special stuffed animal, imagine how our Heavenly Father must rejoice when we find something of much more value – our eternal salvation!

Save the Date

On Saturday, August 14th, the youth group will be hosting a Back to School Bash for all the kids at church from pre-k through 5th grades. There will be games, crafts, prizes, and best of all... SCHOOL SUPPLIES!! Parents will need to supply the "extra" supplies like backpacks, Clorox wipes, Kleenex, earbuds, etc. "Traditional" supplies (crayons, glue, etc.) will all be sent home with your kids! The youth group is so excited to host this party for our younger members. If you will be able to attend, please sign up on the welcome center.

Baby Shower

If you are interested in helping with Nicole (and Trey) Johnson's baby shower on September 12th, please see Carrie Mills after church. They are having a girl (Journey)!
