Sermon Scripture: Jude 17-25

Sermon Thought:

The audience to whom Jude wrote was vulnerable to heresies and to temptations toward immoral living. Jude encouraged the believers to remain firm in their faith and trust in God's promises for the future. We too are vulnerable to false teaching and temptation, but do not despair! Heed his ways and God will bring us into his presence and give us everlasting joy.

Sermon Questions:

1. What dangers and snares do you personally need to be on guard against?
2. Share what gives you the most hope for the future?
3. What encouragement might those around you need to hear from you and how can you give it?

Next Week's (7/3/22) Servants:

Sheep

Throughout scripture we see many references about sheep. Like “the Lord is my shepherd. . .,” “You are my flock, the sheep of my pasture. . .,” and many others! I was talking with my brother (who is working for a vet this summer) and one of his coworkers had an interesting quote:

“It is not always a blessing that we are called His flock, BUT it is a blessing that we are His flock.”

If you have ever been around sheep, you understand what Amanda was getting at. But in case you haven't, let me fill you in. My family has raised sheep for over 50 years now and most days they aren't the most intelligent animals out there. They will dead sprint into fences, headbutt you at full speed when you aren't looking, and get stuck into things you don't think are possible to get stuck in (just go ask Baylor). When you go to free them from getting their head stuck in a fence, they will even fight you to keep their head stuck!

When you realize how ridiculous sheep act and the predicaments, they get themselves into, you'll realize it's not always a blessing to be referenced as a sheep. Like sheep sometimes we get our heads stuck where they don't belong, headbutt each other for no reason, and even run away from our Shepherd when he reaches out to pull us out of fences we have put ourselves into.

We must lean to the Good Shepherd!

“Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and do not lean on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make straight your paths. Do not be wise in your own eyes; fear the Lord, and turn away from evil” - Proverbs 3:5-7
