Sermon Scripture: John 8:1-11

Sermon Thought:

We are really good at downplaying our mistakes. However, most of us, at some point, realize the depth of our sin and brokenness. Paul writes about himself saying, "I am the worst of sinners." Perhaps this articulates how you have felt about your own self. The great news is that God's grace is always big enough to cover our sin, and it never runs out.

Sermon Questions:

1. Take a few moments and share the feelings that rise during those self-realization times of brokenness.
2. It seems a bit contradictory, but how can those moments draw us closer to God?
3. How can those moments draw us closer to others?

Rising Above the World

During Jesus’ earthly ministry, he spent time with his disciples teaching them about the spiritual kingdom he was creating and reprogramming their minds from an earthly to a spiritual orientation. As his disciples, we must also be about changing our “thought life” to be like Jesus in this new life he has given us. Gordon has developed a spiritual guide, “Rising Above the World,” that addresses the concept of spiritual transformation by “renewing our minds” to be like Jesus. There is a copy on the Welcome Center for you to review and a sign-up sheet if you would like a copy of Rising Above the World.

Sunday AM Youth Class

Youth Group Parents: Please watch “The Chosen” with your child during the week, so we can discuss it Sunday mornings. Each week we will be studying alongside the episode watched at home, so it is essential you take time as a family to watch it. This week we are discussing episode 1.
