Sermon Scripture: John 14:1-3

Sermon Thought:

As followers of Jesus, we are called to live with a different mindset-anchored not in this world but in the hope of the home he is preparing for us. While we remain in the world, we are set apart by his truth, called to reflect his character, and to live with courage, purpose, and purity. Being different isn't about separation from people-it's about transformation through Christ.

Sermon Questions:

1. How does Jesus' promise in John 14:1-3 affect the way we live differently from the world today?
2. How can we live the truth of what Jesus says without becoming isolated or judgmental?
3. How can God's word shape our identity so that we stand out from the world in a healthy and impactful way?

Opportunity to Pray for Eternal Impacts

We recently had a congregational business meeting to discuss the budget for the upcoming year. The summary of the funds is important to our congregation, the purpose of the funds is an eternal issue. The purpose of the budget is to accomplish the good, pleasing and perfect will of our God and Father (Rm 12:2). Here are four prayer ideas to consider as we seek to accomplish the Lord's will this year:

- Pray that the Lord will continue to equip up for the work of His service (Eph 4:12)
- Pray what we will grow in all aspects of Christ (Eph 4:15)
- Pray that each one of us will work towards the healthy growth of our congregation (Eph 4:16)
- Pray that God's Truth will be fearlessly proclaimed in our congregation (Eph 6:19)
